

#SciCommThursdays

What good is discovery if you can't share it?

Join us for a monthly series all about Communicating Your Science featuring WashU faculty and staff, plus expert guests from the St. Louis community.

Hear valuable perspectives on crafting and disseminating stories about science for any audience, including grantors, scientists from other fields, the public and the media.

All members of the WashU and WUMC community are welcome to attend!

Registration is encouraged but not required.

becker.wustl.edu/SciCommThursdays

Contact Mychal Voorhees at (314) 362-4734 or mychal.voorhees@wustl.edu with questions.

Fall Series: Crafting Your Story

Social Media for Promoting Science & Research

Thursday, Oct. 26, 4–5 p.m.

Connor Auditorium

Technical Experts: Amy Suiter, Becker Library, and Dera Luce, Medical Public Affairs
Faculty Expert: Dr. Kenan Omurtag, OB/GYN

Preparing Dynamic and Engaging Presentations

Thursday, Nov. 9, 4–5 p.m.

Connor Auditorium

Technical Expert: TBD
Faculty Expert: Dr. Vicky Fraser, Infectious Disease

Elevator Pitches – Stories in 3 Minutes or Less

Thursday, Dec. 7, 4–5 p.m.

Moore Auditorium

Technical Expert: Mychal Voorhees, Becker Library
Faculty Expert: Dr. Indira Mysorekar, OB/GYN

Spring Series (“Telling Your Story”) topics, dates and presenters will be added to the website at left as they become available.