

Register for the 2018 NIH Fellowship Workshop

The NIH Fellowship Writing Workshop is offered to graduate students and postdocs in order to teach them proposal-writing skills, with the goal of applying to an appropriate fellowship or grant.

The program is supported by the Graduate School, the Division of Biology & Biomedical Sciences, the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs, the Writing Center, Arts & Sciences, and the School of Engineering & Applied Science at Washington University and has events on both the Medical School and Danforth campuses.

The workshop consists of two seminars and three small group meetings.

Seminar 1: Information on NIH grant logistics, NIH grant 101, panel discussion, and Q&A Presenters: Phil Bayly, Chair, Department of Mechanical Engineering & Materials Science, Lilyan and E. Lisle Hughes Professor; John Russell, Professor of Developmental Biology; and Adam Eggebrecht, Assistant Professor of Radiology
Danforth Campus: Monday, 10/1 from 2:00 pm - 4:00 pm in Green Hall, Rodin Auditorium (Bayly & Eggebrecht)
Medical Campus: Tuesday, 10/2 from 2:00 - 4:00 pm in Erlanger Auditorium, McDonnell Medical Science Building (Russell & Eggebrecht)

Seminar 2: "Writing Personal Statements" Presenter: Steve Pijut, Associate Director of The Washington University Writing Center
Medical Campus: Thursday, 10/11 from 9:30 - 11:00 am in Erlanger Auditorium, McDonnell Medical Sciences Building
Danforth Campus: Friday, 10/12 from 2:00 - 3:30 pm in Whitaker Hall Auditorium

Workshop participants should attend only one seminar session. You may attend at either campus, no matter where you spend most of your lab time.

Small Group Mentoring Sessions

Please note: In order to attend the Small Group Sessions you must attend both Seminar 1 and 2 and register for the small group sessions. Small groups are likely to meet during the weeks of 10/22 - 10/26, 10/29-11/2, and 11/5 - 11/9.
